IMPORTANT:

The Recru-Tec Test should never be used exclusively to make a hiring decision. In order to evaluate every selected candidate's qualifications for a specific position, you should use our suggested 5-step formula:

- 1) Analysis of the candidate's resume & application against the specific job description
- 2) Evaluation of the candidate's qualifications through a standard, formal job interview
- 3) Testing of the candidate's job-related soft skills (this is the Recru-Tec test step)
- 4) Conducting Reference checks with previous employers
- 5) Conducting a Background check prior to offering the position.

GENERAL PROFILE:

NOTE: TRAITS BELOW THE CRITICAL MINIMUM PROFILE

- Determine if the mentioned low traits are easy to manage or correct, considering the details of the job description.
- Check if these very low traits could be due to some recent difficult situation.
- Plan to discuss with or challenge the evaluated person in a second interview if you did not notice or were not told about the possibility of such situation in the evaluated person's recent past.

DESCRIPTION OF TRAITS:

1. Predictability: 50

- Fairly predictable - may sometimes change mood or intentions for no reason.
- Quite coherent and consistent in judgments or opinions.
- Fairly reliable about decisions or intentions.
- May sometimes lack full certainty when having to make important decisions.

2. Energy: 90 *

- Currently demonstrates an extremely high level of energy and dynamism.
- Definitely prefers a lot of action at work and does not fear pressure.
- Loves to take initiatives.
- Will adopt a very active attitude on the job.
- Will usually be able to complete her/his tasks on time.
- Presents a “workaholic” personality.

Note: The evaluated person can sometimes act impulsively and therefore not always control her/his energy very well.

3. Enthusiasm: 75 *

- Appears satisfied and happy.
- Demonstrates a high level of interest and enthusiasm.
- Usually adopts an optimistic attitude on the job.
- Can take initiatives easily.
- Usually puts attention on opportunities rather than on problems and barriers.
- Very good aptitude to cope with challenges and failures.
- Usually believes and can be interested in new ideas.

Note: the evaluated person will sometimes show a compulsive, unnatural level of enthusiasm and might have trouble coping with reality - especially under difficult circumstances.

4. Persistence: 90 *

- Very stable and persistent.
- Very orderly and focused in efforts, able to concentrate.
- Can assume challenging, long-term assignments.
- Able and willing to persist, in order to achieve the expected results.

Note: The evaluated person will sometimes demonstrate an exaggeratedly high level of persistence. She/he might sometimes persist blindly in the wrong direction and lack flexibility.

5. Self-control: 55

- Appears most of the time rather calm and composed.
- Under challenging work conditions, might demonstrate some nervousness.
- Usually in good control of own acts but can be a bit irritable and sensitive when facing stressful conditions.
- Not too easily surprised or frightened.

6. Determination: 50

- Demonstrates a relatively good level of determination/assertiveness.
- Normally feels quite able to cope with difficult situations or persons in her/his environment, provided these are not too challenging.

- Will sometimes be a bit hesitant.
- May sometimes have slight difficulties to achieve expected results in time.

7. Communication: 90 *

- Very open and communicative.
- Speaks easily and openly about anything.
- Can cope very easily with difficult situations.
- Very straight in her/his remarks.
- Can easily share her/his intentions, considerations or feelings.
- Very sociable person.

Note: The evaluated person may sometimes demonstrate a compulsive, unnaturally high level of communication. She/he can talk too much and find it difficult listening to others.

8. Rapport: 70 *

- Demonstrates very high consideration for others.
- Very high level of empathy.
- Is genuinely concerned about people.
- Warm and friendly toward others.
- Usually shows good understanding for people, even in the first approach.
- Has a friendly attitude and is usually responsive to the needs of others.

Note: The evaluated person may sometimes express her/his feelings in a slightly compulsive, unnatural way. She/he will sometimes appear a bit exaggeratedly emotive.

9. Self-confidence: 55

- Demonstrates a rather good level of self-confidence.
- Usually does not doubt own capacities.
- Not too hesitant in her/his tasks.
- Quite certain about the future.
- May have some slight difficulties undertaking important tasks which require a great deal of autonomy.
- May sometimes need some encouragement to do things.

10. Objectivity: 65

- Tends to be objective and rational, can see things pretty much as they are.
- Tends to evaluate situations based on facts rather than just on opinions.
- Can be impartial in evaluating situations.
- Does not blame the environment or others for problems she/he can't solve.
- When facing challenges or problems, usually adopts an active, causative attitude.
- Will try to take responsibility for what happens and will most of the time try to make things go right.

11. Tolerance: 75 *

- Very tolerant, not suspicious.
- When disagreeing, can also easily admit wrongness.
- Can easily accept criticism.
- Not hard to please; pleasant to deal with.
- Can tolerate others' mistakes or different opinions.

Note: The evaluated person can be sometimes too tolerant. She/he tends to say 'yes' to everyone. She/he may sometimes be too concerned about not hurting people's feelings.

12. Organization: 85

- Considers to be very well organized.
- Can stay orderly even under pressure.
- Seems to manage priorities very well.
- Does not have difficulties concentrating even on long lasting administrative efforts.
- Seems to appreciate administrative work.

13. Interest: 85

- Demonstrates a strong level of interest for the vacant position.
- Seems very attracted by the opportunities detailed in the job description.
